

Exciting opportunity for a Clinical Specialist Orthotist to join our established clinical teams in Leeds!

We currently have an exciting opportunity to join our Leeds Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust clinical team as a clinical specialist Orthotist.

As a clinical specialist Orthotist, you will have a wide-ranging clinical caseload including complex treatments such as composite KAFO's and involvement in MDT clinics within Leeds Teaching Hospitals NHS trust.

Unique to this position, the successful candidate will also be involved in the provision of Cranial remoulding orthoses (CRO), as part of Endoscopic Assisted Craniosynostosis Surgery within Leeds Teaching Hospitals NHS Trust. This will involve working within a surgical MDT, scanning of the baby's head, fitting and monitoring the CRO. Full training in this treatment modality will be provided.

Involvement in development of best practice clinical guidelines, pathway development and research/audit work will also feature in the clinical specialist role, offering an excellent opportunity to further develop your clinical career. As a senior member of the clinical team, you will take an active role in the training and development of our graduate and apprentice Orthotists.

As part of the international Eqwal group, you will have opportunities to work with the newest technologies and work with colleagues from across the world.

We are looking for a competent and multiskilled Orthotist with the ability to work around babies and parents, and experience in research/audit and scanning technologies. You must have competent workshop skills and the ability to develop good working relationships within MDT's. In return we can offer various benefits including a competitive salary, incremental holiday allowance (rising with service), employee discount platform, qualification support, subscription and registration fees paid (e.g. HCPC), and continuous professional development plans with internal and external training and courses available.

If you would like to work with the largest group of Prosthetists and Orthotists in the country, then please apply by sending your CV to hr@steepergroup.com.
