Prosthetic/Orthotic Apprentice

What is the best thing about your apprenticeship?

One of the best things about being an apprentice prosthetist/orthotist is the opportunity to make a real difference in people's lives.

The hands-on experience you gain through the apprenticeship pathway, allows you to learn not just the technical skills but also how to connect with patients on a personal level. Prosthetics and Orthotics is a field that is constantly evolving.

Describe your apprenticeship in three to five words

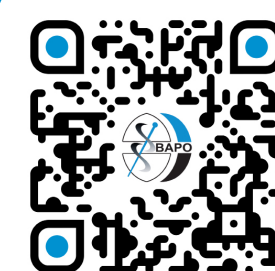

The best way to learn.

What advice would you give other people interested in a prosthetic/orthotic apprenticeship?

Starting an apprenticeship towards a brand new speciality can be challenging and maybe coming back into academic learning may seem difficult, but the jump into the unknown is less scary than it seems. Here you have a fantastic team to support you both ways: hands-on practice and from the learning side. You will learn as you go.

Prosthetics and Orthotics can offer many ways of personal development once you understand where would you like to progress.
