

Today you were seen by a

Prosthetist

Prosthetists utilise gait analysis and engineering solutions to provide artificial limbs to assist people who have part or all of a limb missing. Their qualifications make them competent to design and provide prostheses that replicate the structural or functional characteristic of the person's absent limb.

If you are interested in a career in prosthetics or you know someone who may be interested, you can find out more at www.bapo.com, scan the QR code, or email careersinpando@bapo.com

